Note: This list of local lenders is not an exhaustive list of all available SBA Lenders that are working to administer the Paycheck Protection Program. For more information on other participating lenders, please visit www.SBA.gov. Also note that April 3, 2020 is the first date that some banks will begin accepting applications for the Paycheck Protection Program. However, there are some banks that will not begin receiving applications until Monday, April 6, 2020. Please check with each participating lender on their application process.*
